

October 30, 2020

Returning Powell River to Vancouver Island Region

The administration of the Powell River court location was historically carried out by the Vancouver Island Region and then moved to the Office of the Chief Judge (OCJ). Administration of the Powell River court location will be transferred back to the Vancouver Island Region effective January 1, 2021. This is being done to align with Court Services Branch administration of the location and to support efficient and effective operations.